

Battling Joe
Given Bronze
Star While In
Daze At Front

By HAL BOYLE
With American Troops in Belgium, Dec. 29 (Delayed) (AP)—“Don't forget Pearl Harbor.”—Pfc. Albert Joe Bernstein used to yell that in the middle of long hikes during training days. It always brought a grin to dusty lips.

“Battling Bernstein” was a morale builder then. And now, on the battlefield, this tough medical aid man from Chicago is still pepping up the weary, longfaced Joes. Even wounded men chuckle at this rough talking, sentimental medic as he patches them up and packs them off to a clearing station.

Bernie is a rifle company aid man—one of the most dangerous of medical jobs—and one of five Chicago brothers, four of them in service. He talks jerkily, gambles for big dough and is the only medic on the front to win a medal while in a daze.

In Daze Two Days
“Once, back in the hedgerow country, we were sweating out a big bombardment when all of a sudden a big tree was hit,” says Bernie. “It broke and conked me right on the bean. Knocked me out. That's the only time I got hit. I was in a daze for two days and everyone says I did big stuff in those two days. They put me in for a Silver Star.”

Bernie used to be an amateur boxer. Now he moves up with the infantry, wearing two Red Cross arm bands and aid pouches over his shoulder—but no rifle.

Once he set up a forward aid station by himself in a captured enemy pillbox and for 24 hours ran a one-man hospital under fire.

Like any good doughboy, he hates snipers. “Look,” he says “once I bend down to fix up a guy who got hit while we were mashing down a road. The sniper's still around. He keeps firing on me. He don't try to hit me; just near misses. Lots of 'em. I got so damn mad I stood up and challenged him to come down and fight like a man. That made all the guys laugh. Helped their morale. But I never got hit!”

Rescues Colonel
Bernie wears the Bronze Star for gallantry. His buddies remember many of his feats but particularly they remember the time he stumbled forward for a mile at night under steady mortar and artillery fire with two other medics to bring back their wounded and isolated battalion commander.

“That you, Battling?” the officer asked, when they reached him.

This is Bernie's version of the trip back under fire:

“First we put him on the litter. He said ‘I'm cold, Battling.’ What the hell, he's lost a lot of blood. No wonder he's cold. I ain't lost any blood and I'm cold too. While we were carrying him, all kinds of stuff is dropping close by.”

“Once or twice I'd say, ‘sorry, colonel, we gotta drop you.’ We do and dive. He's calm—don't get excited. He's a soldier. We never dropped him with a bang, always gentle. Finally, we make it back.”

“By that time they got plasma and everything ready and they fix him up. He's still saying, ‘I'm cold.’ So I give up by field jacket and now I'm cold as hell. But I get me a jacket off a patient I lug in. He don't need it no more. It's nothing—stuff like that goes on all the time.”

EDUCATION FOR TEACHERS WILL BE GROUP TOPIC

Plans for a meeting of the Adams County Council of School Administrators January 17 on the general topic of “In-Service Teacher Education,” were announced today by Dr. Robert A. Bream, chairman of the In-Service committee.

Members of the executive committee of the Adams County Teachers' association have been asked to participate on an informal panel to present the teachers' viewpoint on how in-service education can be provided for more teachers.

“PETER PAN” TO BE GIVEN HERE MONDAY, 4 P. M.

The Clare Tree Major company players will come here Monday for the postponed presentation of the stage production, “Peter Pan,” under sponsorship of the Woman's club of Gettysburg. It was announced late Wednesday afternoon.

The curtain will rise at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Majestic theater.

The production, originally scheduled for December 18, was postponed after members of the cast were injured in an auto crash in Ohio during a blizzard during the week of December 11.

Holders of tickets sold for the earlier date may use the original cardboard while additional tickets have been placed on sale through the schools and through members of the Woman's club.

For Sister Kenny Fund

Children's tickets are available at 35 cents each while the price of adult seats is 60 cents. Women's club members have sold 203 patrons' tickets. Children's tickets are for main floor seats. The parents' section will be in the balcony.

The production is being brought here by the local women's organization as a means of raising funds to enable a local nurse to receive thorough training in the Sister Kenny treatment of infantile paralysis. The fund was instituted last year with the proceeds from a Clare Tree Major production of “The Five Little Peppers” in the high school auditorium.

Announcing the new date for the play, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Woman's club president, said: “We hope that the new date will be convenient for all of our patrons and for those who bought tickets for the December date. If we had not accepted next Monday as the new date we could not have brought the Clare Tree Major players to Gettysburg until late in May. Many tickets remain to be sold and we hope to accommodate all of the children and parents who may wish to see the play.”

Japan, Ryukus And Formosa Lambasted

(By The Associated Press)
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Jan. 4—Coordinated air blows smashed Southern Japan, the Ryukus and Formosa along a solid 2,000-mile arc down through Luzon, prized island of the Philippines, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today his troops have made two new landings on Mindoro, his closest approach to Manila.

Aircraft carrier planes opened a battering ram assault Wednesday (Philippines date) on Formosa, which funnels Japanese men and planes to the Philippines.

(Japanese broadcasts said that 900 U. S. carrier and land-based planes struck Formosa and Okinawa islands, Wednesday and Thursday. Five hundred planes struck yesterday for nearly seven hours and 400 returned to the attack today.

(Imperial headquarters said 17 planes were shot down Wednesday over Formosa. (The strategic nature of Formosa as a staging base would require its neutralization to cover any major Yank moves to its south).

Other carrier aircraft ranged into the Ryukus at a point a little over 300 miles from Japan.

The same day, the biggest force of Saipan-based B-29's yet to fly to Japan started huge fires at Nagoya, Nippon's airplane center on Southern Honshu.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the Formosa attack in a Pearl Harbor communique whose meager detail suggested a radio silence to protect just such a continuing operation as the last previous carrier-based pounding of Formosa in October, the prelude to MacArthur's return to the Philippines.

Nimitz also tersely reported the attack on Okinawa in the Ryukus.

MacArthur has not yet reported the air activities over Luzon for Wednesday but today's communique told of bombers and fighters based in the Central Philippines ripping that island from north to south, heavily pounding Clark field in the Manila area, and sinking or setting afire 25 ships off the west coast. Those raids were Monday.

On Mindoro island, where the Yanks landed on the southwest coast at San Jose December 15 to set up an air base from which bombers now are softening up Luzon, MacArthur reported shore-to-shore landings on the east coast and just north of San Jose.

The exact sites of these landings were cloaked in secrecy but the one north of the original invasion scene would cut down the distance to Manila, already less than 150 miles.

The landings were unopposed.

New Allied Offensive In Blinding Snowstorm

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Jan. 4 (AP)—The U. S. First Army passed its initial objectives today in a powerful new offensive into the north flank of the German bulge below Grandmenil, capturing an unidentified village and key high points during a blinding snowstorm against stiffening tank opposition.

Some 15 miles or so to the south, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army advance was halted at least temporarily by violent German counter-attacks north and northeast of Bastogne against the famous 101st Airborne Division. Field Marshal Von Rundstedt built his southern flank force to ten divisions.

A dispatch from the Seventh Army front in northern Lorraine said the threatening German thrust south of Bitche had been blunted and Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's men were hammering steadily at flanks of the enemy salient, achieving some advances.

Yanks Lose Ground
Persistent German attacks from

the Saar to the Rhine, however had forced the Americans from their holdings in the German Palatinate east of the Wissembourg gap and from all except the Saarlautern bridgehead in the Saarland.

German advances of up to four miles in Lorraine reached almost to Relpertswiller, six miles below Bitche and just 13 miles north of Saverne on the Allied lifeline to the Rhine city of Strasbourg. A small force of Americans was withdrawn from a corner of Bitche itself, a bastion of the old Magmot line.

Field Marshal Von Rundstedt reinforced his threatened southern flank to ten divisions and sent 100 tanks and two infantry regiments crumpling into snow around Bastogne against the sky troopers in two counter thrusts.

Slight Yank Advance
Several tanks were destroyed. The enemy infantry was checked. The fighting was in a blizzard with temperatures down to zero.

The First Army advanced a mile and a half against the nose of the German bulge below Rochefort and was described officially as making “good progress” from Grandmenil on the northern flank of the salient.

Two villages and dominating high ground three miles south of Rochefort were captured.

German forces below the Saarland, by no means halted, advanced up to four miles in northern Lorraine southeast of Saareguemures. Supreme headquarters disclosed that the enemy had penetrated to Gros Roderching and Achen, four miles south of Blesbrucken which was lost yesterday.

Foe Gains 5 Miles
The foe crossed the Blies river anew south of Habkirchen, where artillery interrupted the thrust. Pressure eased somewhat south and southeast of Bitche, where Nazi advances had ranged up to five miles.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' resilient First Army with tanks and tank-riding infantry surged ahead across the snow-covered terrain south of Rochefort, engulfing two villages about three miles below the town in the extreme nose of the bulge.

The First Army was backtracking the ground painfully lost in the German December offensive. In the Grandmenil area where the greatest potential threat was posed against the 20 divisions of Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's three armies in the bulge, supreme headquarters said resistance was stiff but that “good progress was being made.”

LT. COMDR. FRAZEE
Lt. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., has been promoted to the command of a submarine on duty in the Pacific. The Gettysburg Times learned from an authoritative source today.

Commander Frazee, a graduate of Gettysburg high school, attended Gettysburg college for two years before entering the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., from which he graduated in 1939.

A short time later he volunteered for submarine duty and in December 1941 graduated from the submarine school. He was immediately assigned to duty in the Pacific and has made numerous patrols. He served aboard the USS Lexington, an aircraft carrier, before entering sub service. He also served aboard the USS Dupont, a destroyer, and then the submarines Grayback and Tang. The Grayback was reported lost some time ago.

Commander Frazee is the first Adams countian to command a submarine.

Mrs. Frazee, the former Miss Betty Swope, resides with her parents, Attorney and Mrs. J. Donald Swope, West Broadway.

R.C. NEEDS HELP WITH SEWING AS DRESSINGS STOP

The Red Cross surgical dressing room in the American Legion building, which has been operated continually since October, 1942, is being closed today for lack of materials. Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, production chairman, announced.

The groups of volunteer workers who have folded many hundreds of thousands of dressings for use of the armed forces have completed all assigned quotas and used all of the materials sent here for the work. The room will not be reopened until new quotas are assigned and materials received here, Mrs. Winebrenner said.

With the announcement of the suspension of the work on surgical dressings, Mrs. Winebrenner appealed for volunteers to help meet new sewing quotas.

Big Sewing Quotas
The national Red Cross has asked the production workers of the local chapter to complete 125 baby layettes and make and fill 144 Army and Navy overseas kit bags. There is a need for contributions to provide the articles required to fill the bags while many workers will be needed to make the bags themselves, she said.

The Red Cross work room on East High street will be open for sewing each Thursday and Friday afternoon from 1 to 4:30 o'clock, Mrs. Winebrenner announced.

The last shipment of thousands of the completed surgical dressings is being prepared and a report will be made next week on the total number of dressings handled at the local work center in the last 27 months, the chairman stated.

COMMISSIONERS KEEP SAME TAX RATE; 3 FUNDS TOTAL $185,000

Adams countians will pay the same county tax rate for 1945 as they did in 1944 the county commissioners decided at their first meeting of the new year held Wednesday afternoon at the court house.

The board of three decided to retain the rate of four and a half mills for the county tax and two mills for the institution district levy. With the exception of a number of reports and other routine business, the fixing of the tax rate was the main item of consideration during the meeting.

The commissioners also are meeting today as members of the county sinking fund commission to discuss plans of operation of the sinking fund for the year. In his report as treasurer of the commission, County Treasurer John W. Brehm said there was a balance of $17,597.28 in the account as of today. The certificate of deposit for the beginning of the year was $17,252.24 and interest during 1944 of $345.04 brought the fund up to its present figure.

Have $185,000 In Treasury
Mr. Brehm said the total of the county's bonded indebtedness, a part of which is to be retired by the sinking fund, now stands at $106,000. The sinking fund is being accumulated to pay off a $20,000 bond issue which is due in 1950. The remainder of the debt is being paid off at the rate of $9,000 a year, the next payment of which is scheduled to be made next September.

The sinking fund commission comprises, in addition to the county commissioners and the county treasurer, the county auditors, William L. Meals, Esq., attorney for the group, and Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk to the commissioners.

Treasurer Brehm also reported today the balances in other county funds. Including the sinking fund, the treasury had a total of $185,667.34. The general fund, largest of the four accounts, had a balance today of $77,221.06. The institutional fund had $43,397 remaining in it, while a total of $37,452 has accumulated in the liquid fuel fund, Mr. Brehm reported.

The treasury total includes $10,000 worth of government bonds.

REEDY APPEAL GETS RESPONSE

The appeal for living quarters for the Roy R. Reedy family, published Wednesday evening in The Gettysburg Times, brought many responses, Glenn L. Bream, Red Cross disaster relief chairman, said today as he made plans to move donated furnishings Friday into quarters being selected finally today.

The Reedy family, made homeless December 21 by a fire that cost the lives of three children in the family, probably will occupy half of the tenant house on the Edward Taubman farm, near the Reedy property, or the Will King property in Hunterstown, Mr. Bream said. Those two locations seem to be the most suitable among the various homes offered the family, he explained.

It was important that the Reedys find a place near their farm so that livestock there could be cared for conveniently. Some of the living quarters offered in response to Wednesday evening's appeal had to be declined for that reason.

A van owned by George Ditchburn of the Gettysburg Transfer will collect the donated household furnishings from 10 a. m. to noon Friday and take them to the Reedy's new residence. There were many duplications among the large amount of household furnishings offered the family through the office of Miss Mary Ramer and many of the articles cannot be used for that reason, Mr. Bream said.

The appeal for dishes, bed clothing, rugs and other furnishings was handled by the Soroptimist club's representative, Miss Mary Ramer.

EDUCATION FOR TEACHERS WILL BE GROUP TOPIC

Plans for a meeting of the Adams County Council of School Administrators January 17 on the general topic of "In-Service Teacher Education" were announced today by Dr. Robert A. Bream, chairman of the In-Service committee.

Members of the executive committee of the Adams County Teachers' association have been asked to participate on an informal panel to present the teachers' viewpoint on how in-service education can be provided for more teachers.

Paris, Jan. 4 (AP)—The U. S. First Army passed its initial objectives today in a powerful new offensive into the north flank of the German bulge below Grandmenil, capturing an unidentified village and key high points during a blinding snowstorm against stiffening tank opposition.

Some 15 miles or so to the south, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army advance was halted at least temporarily by violent German counter-attacks north and northeast of Bastogne against the famous 101st Airborne Division. Field Marshal Von Rundstedt built his southern flank force to ten divisions.

A dispatch from the Seventh Army front in northern Lorraine said the threatening German thrust south of Bitche had been blunted and Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's men were hammering steadily at flanks of the enemy salient, achieving some advances.

Yanks Lose Ground

Persistent German attacks from

the Saar to the Rhine, however had forced the Americans from their holdings in the German Palatinate east of the Wissembourg gap and from all except the Saarlautern bridgehead in the Saarland.

German advances of up to four miles in Lorraine reached almost to Reipertswiller, six miles below Bitche and just 13 miles north of Saverne on the Allied lifeline to the Rhine city of Strasbourg. A small force of Americans was withdrawn from a corner of Bitche itself, a bastion of the old Maginot line.

Field Marshal Von Rundstedt reinforced his threatened southern flank to ten divisions and sent 100 tanks and two infantry regiments crunching into snow around Bastogne against the sky troopers in two counter thrusts.

Slight Yank Advance

Several tanks were destroyed. The enemy infantry was checked. The fighting was in a blizzard with temperatures down to zero.

The First Army advanced a mile and a half against the nose of the German bulge below Rochefort and was described officially as making "good progress" from Grandmenil on the northern flank of the salient.

Mrs. Lefever Named To Nurses' Aide Post

The appointment of Mrs. G. W. Lefever as co-chairman of the Red Cross Nurses' Aide committee to assist Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, committee chairman for the last two years, was announced today by Mrs. E. The first session of the new 80-hour training course will be conducted at the Nurses' home Monday evening at 7 o'clock with Mrs. Sydney Poppy as the instructor.

Additional members may enroll in the class which will begin its instruction work Monday regardless of the number enrolled. An urgent appeal has been made for a large enrollment because of the urgent need for the services of aides in the local hospital and in army hospitals.

Japan, Ryukus And Formosa Lambasted

(By The Associated Press)

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Jan. 4—Coordinated air blows smashed Southern Japan, the Ryukus and Formosa along a solid 2,000-mile arc down through Luzon, prized island of the Philippines, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today his troops have made two new landings on Mindoro, his closest approach to Manila.

Aircraft carrier planes opened a battering ram assault Wednesday (Philippines date) on Formosa, which funnels Japanese men and planes to the Philippines.

(Japanese broadcasts said that 900 U. S. carrier and land-based planes struck Formosa and Okinawa islands, Wednesday and Thursday. Five hundred planes struck yesterday for nearly seven hours and 400 returned to the attack today.)

(Imperial headquarters said 17 planes were shot down Wednesday over Formosa.)

(The strategic nature of Formosa as a staging base would require its neutralization to cover any major Yank moves to its south.)

Other carrier aircraft ranged into the Ryukus at a point a little over 300 miles from Japan.

The same day, the biggest force of Saipan-based B-29's yet to fly to Japan started huge fires at Nagoya, Nippon's airplane center on Southern Honshu.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the Formosa attack in a Pearl Harbor communique whose meager detail suggested a radio silence to protect just such a continuing operation as the last previous carrier-based pounding of Formosa in October, the prelude to MacArthur's return to the Philippines.

Nimitz also tersely reported the attack on Okinawa in the Ryukus.

MacArthur has not yet reported the air activities over Luzon for Wednesday but today's communique told of bombers and fighters based in the Central Philippines ripping that island from north to south, heavily pounding Clark field in the Manila area, and sinking or setting afire 25 ships off the west coast. Those raids were Monday.

On Mindoro island, where the Yanks landed on the southwest coast at San Jose December 15 to set up an air base from which bombers now are softening up Luzon, MacArthur reported shore-to-shore landings on the east coast and just north of San Jose.

The exact sites of these landings were cloaked in secrecy but the one north of the original invasion scene would cut down the distance to Manila, already less than 150 miles.

The landings were unopposed.

Two villages and dominating high ground three miles south of Rochefort were captured.

German forces below the Saarland, by no means halted, advanced up to four miles in northern Lorraine southeast of Saareguemines. Supreme headquarters disclosed that the enemy had penetrated to Gros Roderching and Achen, four miles south of Bleisbrucken which was lost yesterday.

Foe Gains 5 Miles

The foe crossed the Blies river anew south of Habbkirchen, where artillery interrupted the thrust. Pressure eased somewhat south and southeast of Bitche, where Nazi advances had ranged up to five miles.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' resilient First Army with tanks and tank-riding infantry surged ahead across the snow-covered terrain south of Rochefort, engulfing two villages about three miles below the town in the extreme nose of the bulge.

The First Army was backtracking the ground painfully lost in the German December offensive. In the Grandmenil area where the greatest potential threat was posed against the 20 divisions of Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's three armies in the bulge, supreme headquarters said resistance was stiff but that "good progress was being made."

R.C. NEEDS HELP WITH SEWING AS DRESSINGS STOP

The Red Cross surgical dressing room in the American Legion building, which has been operated continually since October, 1942, is being closed today for lack of materials. Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, production chairman, announced.

The groups of volunteer workers who have folded many hundreds of thousands of dressings for use of the armed forces have completed all assigned quotas and used all of the materials sent here for the work. The room will not be reopened until new quotas are assigned and materials received here, Mrs. Winebrenner said.

With the announcement of the suspension of the work on surgical dressings, Mrs. Winebrenner appealed for volunteers to help meet new sewing quotas.

Big Sewing Quotas

The national Red Cross has asked the production workers of the local chapter to complete 125 baby layettes and make and fill 144 Army and Navy overseas kit bags. There is a need for contributions to provide the articles required to fill the bags while many workers will be needed to make the bags themselves, she said.

The Red Cross work room on East High street will be open for sewing each Thursday and Friday afternoon from 1 to 4:30 o'clock, Mrs. Winebrenner announced.

The last shipment of thousands of the completed surgical dressings is being prepared and a report will be made next week on the total number of dressings handled at the local work center in the last 27 months, the chairman stated.

COMMISSIONERS KEEP SAME TAX RATE; 3 FUNDS TOTAL $185,000

Adams countians will pay the same county tax rate for 1945 as they did in 1944 the county commissioners decided at their first meeting of the new year held Wednesday afternoon at the court house.

The board of three decided to retain the rate of four and a half mills for the county tax and two mills for the institution district levy. With the exception of a number of reports and other routine business, the fixing of the tax rate was the main item of consideration during the meeting.

The commissioners also are meeting today as members of the county sinking fund commission to discuss plans of operation of the sinking fund for the year. In his report as treasurer of the commission, County Treasurer John W. Brehm said there was a balance of $17,597.28 in the account as of today. The certificate of deposit for the beginning of the year was $17,252.24 and interest during 1944 of $345.04 brought the fund up to its present figure.

Have $185,000 In Treasury

Mr. Brehm said the total of the county's bonded indebtedness, a part of which is to be retired by the sinking fund, now stands at $106,000. The sinking fund is being accumulated to pay off a $20,000 bond issue which is due in 1950. The remainder of the debt is being paid off at the rate of $9,000 a year, the next payment of which is scheduled to be made next September.

The sinking fund commission comprises, in addition to the county commissioners and the county treasurer, the county auditors, William L. Meals, Esq., attorney for the group, and Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk to the commissioners.

Treasurer Brehm also reported today the balances in other county funds. Including the sinking fund, the treasury had a total of $185,967.34. The general fund, largest of the four accounts, had a balance today of $77,221.06. The institutional fund had $43,397 remaining in it, while a total of $37,452 has accumulated in the liquid fuel fund, Mr. Brehm reported.

The treasury total includes $10,000 worth of government bonds.

REEDY APPEAL GETS RESPONSE

The appeal for living quarters for the Roy R. Reedy family, published Wednesday evening in The Gettysburg Times, brought many responses, Glenn L. Bream, Red Cross disaster relief chairman, said today as he made plans to move donated furnishings Friday into quarters being selected finally today.

The Reedy family, made homeless December 21 by a fire that cost the lives of three children in the family, probably will occupy half of the tenant house on the Edward Taughnbaugh farm, near the Reedy property, or the Will King property in Hunterstown, Mr. Bream said. Those two locations seem to be the most suitable among the various homes offered the family, he explained.

It was important that the Reedys find a place near their farm so that livestock there could be cared for conveniently. Some of the living quarters offered in response to Wednesday evening's appeal had to be declined for that reason.

A van owned by George Ditchburn of the Gettysburg Transfer will collect the donated household furnishings from 10 a. m. to noon Friday and take them to the Reedy's new residence. There were many duplications among the large amount of household furnishings offered the family through the office of Miss Mary Ramer and many of the articles cannot be used for that reason, Mr. Bream said.

The appeal for dishes, bed clothing, rugs and other furnishings was handled by the Soroptimist club's representative, Miss Mary Ramer.

JUDGE SPEAKS BEFORE SCHOOL TEACHERS' CLUB

"No matter how much we wish it, we'll never get back to the homes we knew when we were children. Times have changed too much; it is impossible in modern society to give children the attention they used to get in the home. That increases the responsibility of our schools, our churches, our communities."

That was the last point made by Judge W. C. Sheely of the Adams and Fulton county courts, speaking Wednesday to the Schoolmen's club of York county in their first meeting of the new year at West York Junior-Senior high school.

Speaking from his experiences of nine years on the bench, Judge Sheely declared that the present treatment of juveniles by adults is unfair to the youngsters. "We've over-emphasized juvenile delinquency by making everyone so juvenile-delinquent conscious that we brand youngsters as delinquents who are not that at all," he said. His subject was "Parental Neglect as it Relates to Juveniles."

Challenge to Teachers

In most offenses where juveniles were concerned the judge said that he preferred to call children neglected rather than delinquent, as the cases can nearly always be traced to some home conditions over which he had no control.

The speaker typed causes of juvenile offense as one or more of these: "Lack of parental supervision, immoral homes, too much supervision, acquisition of law-breaking from parents, the unwanted child and parental indifference or neglect. The impression left on children's minds by violations of rationing or traffic laws by parents is marked in many juvenile cases he has handled, Judge Sheely said.

He concluded with this challenge to the schoolmen: "The answer to the real problem of juvenile delinquency is to work with the children so that the next generation will see things differently."

Accompanying Judge Sheely were Miss Dorothy Warner, supervisor of special education in Adams county, and Lloyd C. Kefauver, superintendent of schools in Gettysburg. Judge Walter I. Anderson, of York, was also a guest.

An informal discussion on delinquency was part of the dinner-meeting which followed at the Pine Tree Inn.

JANUARY 15 IS TAX DEADLINE

W. J. Rothensies, collector of Internal Revenue, reminded taxpayers in this district today that January 15 is the deadline for filing original or amended 1944 declarations of Estimated Tax and for paying installments on previously-filed declarations for 1944.

Nearly all farmers are required to file original 1944 declarations by January 15. Most other taxpayers who were required to file 1944 declarations did so last April, but those who underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent should file amended declarations to avoid the penalty for substantial understatements. January 15, likewise, is the last day for paying all installments due on 1944 declarations.

Mr. Rothensies also called attention to the new provisions of law which permits a taxpayer to file his income tax return for 1944 and pay the tax due on the return by January 15, instead of filing or paying "estimated tax" otherwise due at that time. Taxpayers availing themselves of this special provision will be saved the double duty of filing and paying "estimated tax" on January 15 and filing and paying on the annual return March 15. March 15 remains the regular deadline for filing 1944 annual returns and 1945 declarations of estimated tax.

For detailed information and forms, Mr. Rothensies invited taxpayers to call at his offices on the 5th floor of the U. S. court house, 9th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, or at the nearest district office located at the post office on Baltimore street.

SCRIBE WARNS AGAINST TOO MUCH OPTIMISM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The American First Army's new counter-offensive against the northern flank of Nazi Marshal Von Rundstedt's Belgian bulge affords solid encouragement but shouldn't lure us once more into the pleasant but dangerous fields of over-optimism.

The cold fact is that the crisis of the great German assault hasn't yet been passed. Our General Hodges' drive in the Grandmenil sector—officially reported today as making good progress against stiff resistance—must be regarded as of defensive nature at this juncture.

Of course if the First Army push is successful it will complement General Patton's sensational drive northward into the southern flank of the bulge and so will threaten to cut off the bulge at the base. This would enclose large German forces in a sack.

Boche Makes Progress

The American forces have regained the initiative about the perimeter of the bulge, but on the southern flank of the Allied line the Germans are on the offensive in the Sarreguemines-Bitche-Lauterbourg zone and have made some progress. Their main purpose are to compel us to divert forces from other areas, and to oust us from the Saar region.

Thus on the whole Von Rundstedt, while he has lost the initiative at least temporarily on the perimeter of the bulge, still is able in considerable degree to make us dance to his fiddling. As remarked, we aren't yet out of the woods.

The probabilities are that the German commander still is looking for a soft spot on the north of the bulge through which he might make another thrust towards Liege and then on to Antwerp. Loss of the great communications center of Liege would be a terrific blow to the Allies, and if the port of Antwerp were put out of commission it would be an awful catastrophe. I think this is one of the primary reasons for the new First Army counter-offensive—to knock out of Von Rundstedt's head any notion of attempting a break through on the north.

Foe's Position Dangerous

Fighting about the Patton salient has been fierce, and Von Rundstedt has tactically signalled that the American thrusts have hurt. Latest field dispatches say the Nazi commander is bringing up strong reinforcements to the Bastogne zone.

His position is doubly dangerous because of the vast weight of Allied air power which is being brought against him. Any wholesale withdrawal of armor and men certainly would encounter an annihilating deluge from the air.

JUDGE SPEAKS BEFORE SCHOOL TEACHERS' CLUB

No matter how much we wish we'll never get back to the homes we knew when we were children, times have changed too much; it is impossible in modern society to give children the attention they used to get in the home. That increases responsibility of our schools, our churches, our communities."

That was the last point made by Judge W. C. Sheely of the Adams I Fulton county courts, speaking Tuesday to the Schoolmen's club of York county in their first meeting of the new year at West York Junior-Senior high school.

Speaking from his experiences of the years on the bench, Judge Sheely declared that the present treatment of juveniles by adults is fair to the youngsters. "We've emphasized juvenile delinquency by making everyone so envious of the delinquents that brand youngsters as delinquents are not that at all," he said. "The subject was 'Parental Neglect It Relates to Juveniles.'"

Challenge to Teachers
The most offenses where juveniles are concerned the judge said that preferred to call children neglectful rather than delinquent, as the law can nearly always be traced some home conditions over which a child has no control.

The speaker typed causes of juvenile offense as one or more of these: "Lack of supervision, improper amusements, immoral homes, much supervision, acquisition of breaking from parents, the untended child and parental indifference or neglect. The impression left children's minds by violations of law or traffic laws by parents marked in many juvenile cases has handled, Judge Sheely said. He concluded with this challenge to the schoolmen: "The answer to the real problem of juvenile delinquency is to work with the children so that the next generation will see things differently."

Accompanying Judge Sheely were Miss Dorothy Warner, superintendent of special education in Adams county, and Lloyd C. Kefauver, superintendent of schools in Gettysburg. Judge Walter I. Anderson, of York, was also a guest. An informal discussion on delinquency was part of the dinner-dinnering which followed at the Pine Inn.

JANUARY 15 IS TAX DEADLINE

W. J. Rothensies, collector of Internal Revenue, reminded taxpayers in this district today that January 15 is the deadline for filing original or amended 1944 Declarations of Estimated Tax and for paying installments on previously-filed declarations for 1944.

Nearly all farmers are required to file original 1944 declarations by January 15. Most other taxpayers who were required to file 1944 declarations did so last April, but those who underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent should file amended declarations to avoid the penalty for substantial underestimates. January 15, likewise, is the last day for paying all installments due on 1944 declarations.

Mr. Rothensies also called attention to the new provisions of law which permits a taxpayer to file his income tax return for 1944 and pay the tax due on the return by January 15, instead of filing or paying "estimated tax" otherwise due at that time. Taxpayers availing themselves of this special provision will be saved the double duty of filing and paying "estimated tax" on January 15 and filing and paying on the annual return March 15. March 15 remains the regular deadline for filing 1944 annual returns and 1945 declarations of estimated tax.

For detailed information and forms, Mr. Rothensies invited taxpayers to call at his offices on the 5th floor of the U. S. court house, 9th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, or at the nearest district office located at the post office on Baltimore street.

SCRIBE WARNS AGAINST TOO MUCH OPTIMISM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The American First Army's new counter-offensive against the northern flank of Nazi Marshal Von Rundstedt's Belgian bulge affords solid encouragement but shouldn't lure us once more into the pleasant but dangerous fields of over-optimism.

The cold fact is that the crisis of the great German assault hasn't yet been passed. Our General Hodges' drive in the Grandmenil sector—officially reported today as making good progress against stiff resistance—must be regarded as of defensive nature at this juncture.

Of course if the First Army push is successful it will complement General Patton's sensational drive northward into the southern flank of the bulge and so will threaten to cut off the bulge at the base. This would enclose large German forces in a sack.

Boche Makes Progress

The American forces have regained the initiative about the perimeter of the bulge, but on the southern flank of the Allied line the Germans are on the offensive in the Sarreguemines-Bitche-Lauterbourg zone and have made some progress.

Their main purpose are to compel us to divert forces from other areas, and to oust us from the Saar region.

Thus on the whole Von Rundstedt, while he has lost the initiative at least temporarily on the perimeter of the bulge, still is able in considerable degree to make us dance to his fiddling. As remarked, we aren't yet out of the woods.

The probabilities are that the German commander still is looking for a soft spot on the north of the bulge through which he might make another thrust towards Liege and then on to Antwerp. Loss of the great communications center of Liege would be a terrific blow to the Allies, and if the port of Antwerp were put out of commission it would be an awful catastrophe. I think this is one of the primary reasons for the new First Army counter-offensive—to knock out of Von Rundstedt's head any notion of attempting a break through on the north.

Boche's Position Dangerous

Fighting about the Patton salient has been fierce, and Von Rundstedt has tacitly signalled that the American's thrusts have hurt. Latest field dispatches say the Nazi commander is bringing up strong reinforcements to the Bastogne zone.

His position is doubly dangerous because of the vast weight of Allied air power which is being brought against him. Any wholesale withdrawal of armor and men certainly would encounter an annihilating deluge from the air.

1944 WEATHER WAS UNUSUALLY WARM AND DRY

Weather records for 1944 as kept by Dr. Henry Stewart, local observer, disclose that while on the average each day last year was approximately two degrees warmer than "normal" extreme temperatures were recorded during winter months, the coldest of which was December.

The low of five degrees above zero reached here December 22 was the coldest for 1944 and was approached only by a low of seven reached last January. Hottest day of the year was August 12 when the mercury soared to 101 degrees.

Most abnormally warm month of the year was May when the average temperature was 74 degrees above normal. All of the other months also were above normal temperatures with the exception of March, April and December.

Short on Rainfall

The year was slightly more than three inches short on rainfall and most of that shortage was built up during the hot summer months. June, July and August each recorded a rainfall shortage of more than two inches. January and February also had less than normal precipitation while the other months recorded slightly above normal rain or snow.

Total rain and snow for the year is given at 36.27 inches. The wettest month was March with 4.97 inches while August was the driest with only 1.21 inches of rain being measured.

December's report showed an average temperature of 30.5 degrees which was 1.7 degrees below normal. On 27 days last month freezing temperatures were recorded and on four of those days the mercury never topped the freezing point. There were 11 days of rain or snow with the month's snowfall of seven inches contributing to the total precipitation for the month of 3.9 inches, about three-quarters of an inch above normal.

Ten December days were clear but 12 were cloudy and nine partly cloudy. Doctor Stewart's report shows.

S. SGT. J. H. WISER IS DECORATED

Staff Sgt. James H. Wisner, Jr., has been awarded the Bronze Star medal "for meritorious service in France," his wife, Mrs. James H. Wisner, 124 Steinwehr avenue, learned today from the citation received from her husband.

Sergeant Wisner also received the Purple Heart for wounds received in battle early in November. Although Mrs. Wisner had received no official word of his being wounded, she received the medal last month.

The Bronze Star award was made, the citation stated, to "Staff Sgt. James H. Wisner, Jr., of the corps of engineers, for meritorious service in France during the period of August 6, 1944, to November 27, 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States."

Displays Initiative

The citation continued, "Although shifted successively from lesser to greater responsibilities and new tasks, he has always adapted himself quickly and successfully to new problems and to the different groups of men with whom he has been in contact.

"The initiative, resourcefulness and constant devotion to duty displayed by Staff Sergeant Wisner reflected credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States." During his overseas duty Sergeant Wisner first served as weapons sergeant, then as squad sergeant and more recently as platoon sergeant. He went into the Army July, 1942, and after training in this country went overseas in July of last year, just two years after his entry into the service.

THOMAS F. HAWKINS, Jan. 4 (AP)—Information inside Germany, discounting propaganda, indicates that an army equipped with a set of new weapons must be reckoned a fighting force capable of using effective resistance—perhaps many months.

However, the Nazis apparently believe they can still win the war by advantage of Allied mistakes and blunders. It appears (1) that the German have sufficient gasoline to carry their present battle plan; (2) that they are being supplied with new weapons; and (3) that troops reinforced are still available in large numbers.

Observers in Berlin are convinced the Nazis had far greater understanding of the situation than the Allies. Price Violations Charged By Jurist Philadelphia, Jan. 4 (AP)—Federal Judge Harry E. Kalodner stands ready to lead OPA agents to hotels and restaurants which, he charges, are price-chiseling without Office of Price Administration interference.

His offer, was made yesterday when he imposed a $2,500 fine and a three-month suspended sentence on Frank Bloch, restaurateur, who pleaded no defense to charges of boosting prices on 30 food items.

Judge Kalodner declared: "I know from personal experience I now have to pay 25 cents for a cup of tea that used to cost only 10 cents, and if you think there is any mystery or secrecy about the way the law is being violated by eating places downtown, I'll take you on a personally conducted tour at lunch time today and pay the bill."

FDR May Broadcast His Annual Message

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt is thinking of driving his annual message home to the American people Saturday by submitting it to Congress and then putting it on the air in person.

That's the procedure he followed last year. He sent the "state of the union" message to Capitol Hill at noon, Jan. 1, then read it almost word for word over the radio the same night.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt will take another spin around the same course Saturday hasn't been determined finally, partly because the message has not been finished.

FUEL SHORTAGE FOLLOWS COLD WAVE IN WEST

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4 (AP)—With thousands of workers in tri-state district industrial plants forced into idleness because of a fuel shortage, residential users of natural gas today were asked to cut their consumption as much as possible.

A new cold wave was moving on the Ohio valley, and the Office of War Utilities (OWU) in Washington appealed to domestic consumers to help alleviate the emergency shortage.

Heating demand has greatly exceeded the capacity of gas systems in the western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and Ohio area, said OWU Director Edward Paik, and has necessitated the curtailment of deliveries to nearly all industrial users "including some of the most important producers of war material."

OWU has directed gas companies to cut deliveries to industrial plants in the order of their essentiality to the war effort and to restore service first to plants designated as most critical by the War Production Board.

"This drastic curtailment is expected to be temporary and will be removed just as soon as weather conditions improve," Paik said.

A natural gas shortage yesterday kept 2,000 from Pittsburgh district steel mills and made more than 3,000 workers idle in West Virginia.

GREEK PREMIER KEEPS 5 POSTS

Athens, Jan. 4 (AP)—Reaction of leftwing ELAS followers to the "common confidence" cabinet formed by Gen. Nicholas Plastiras was awaited today as an indication of the new Greek Premier's chances of restoring peace to his troubled land.

Plastiras himself retained four important posts in addition to the Premiership, assuming the war, navy, air and merchant marine portfolios. ELAS leaders previously had been reported insisting that they should be considered in filling these posts.

The men with whom Plastiras surrounded himself were described for the most part as having liberal affiliations, although they included several members of prominent families with rightist traditions.

Permitting one appointee to hold several portfolios—such as justice, health and social welfare—the new Premier left room for the inclusion of ELAS representatives in the government later.

The important post of Minister of Foreign Affairs was awarded to 57-year-old Liberal John Sofianopolous, who founded the Greek Agrarian party in 1932.

ARRANGE TALKS IN OUTLINING FOREIGN AIMS

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Amid signs that Congress wants more information on foreign policy, Secretary of State Stettinius and Senator Connally (D., Tex.) arranged today a straight-talk session on international problems.

Connally, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expected to learn at the meeting where the administration stands on some current international questions.

In return, he planned to give Stettinius a summary of what he considers is the Senate majority's attitude on such problems as European boundary decisions and steps to be taken to organize for future peace. Their session may be followed later by a conference between President Roosevelt, Connally and possibly other legislative leaders.

The President has been expected in some quarters to outline a definite foreign program in his annual message to be read to Congress Saturday.

But advocates of immediate action to organize the United Nations into a working council which could deal with diplomatic problems while the war continues are not putting all of their eggs in that basket.

Senators Ball (R., Minn.) and Hatch (D., N. M.) would like to lay out a blue print in which the Senate would say in advance what sort of American participation it would

Plane Production 96,269 In 1944

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—American factories delivered 96,269 planes of all types in 1944, bringing production since July 1, 1940 to an axis-staggering total of 253,256.

The 1944 output represented an increase of 11,423 planes, but by using weight as the yardstick the increase exceeded 50 per cent. Weight now is regarded as a more accurate gauge, since it reflects the increasing size, and consequently greater hitting power, of aircraft now coming off the assembly line.

Present planning calls for 78,227 planes in 1945, but Chairman J. A. Krug of the War Production Board, said today the indications are that this will be jumped up.

December deliveries totaled 6,697 planes, a slight decrease from November's 6,741.

Violations have a one-to-five dollar fine or 10 days in jail.

Seek Slayer Of Nine Year Old Girl

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP)—Twenty state policemen scoured the Vandling area near here today, seeking a clue which would lead them to the "sex maniac" they blame for the slaying of nine-year-old May Barrett, who body was found yesterday in a vacant house.

Coroner Paul E. Kubasko, of Lackawanna county, said that the killer slashed the child, lashed in her skull, shattered her jaws and crushed her face. He said she had not been ravished, although she apparently was resisting attempts at assault when she was killed.

The body was found when searchers discovered a trail of blood in the snow.

PREDICT BOCHER HAS NEW POWER IN 10 WEAPONS

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Bern, Jan. 4 (AP)—Information from inside Germany, discounting Nazi propaganda, indicates that German armies equipped with a series of new weapons must be reckoned as a fighting force capable of continued effective resistance—perhaps for many months.

Moreover, the Nazis apparently believe they can still win the war by taking advantage of Allied mistakes and difficulties.

While a fluke might end the war tomorrow, or a new Allied offensive might quickly smash massing Nazi forces, it appears (1) that the Germans have sufficient gasoline to carry out their present battle plan; (2) new secret weapons are being turned out steadily in underground factories; and (3) troops reinforcements are still available in large numbers.

Observers in Berlin are convinced the Nazis had far greater underground stores of gasoline than the Allies believed. Synthetic gasoline is still being manufactured, and the Germans need far less fuel for their operations than in the days when the Luftwaffe went out steadily.

Hint New Plane
These informants believe firmly that "V-weapons," being turned out in underground factories in Czechoslovakia as well as in the Reich, now number up to ten. They say a new airplane, ready for use, is shot from the ground like a rocket.

Carry a crew, it switches to gasoline until approaching the target. Then the plane can use compressed air to permit a silent swoop. It can switch back to gasoline and land normally. The plane is said to mount two cannons and has a cruising range of about 1,000 miles.

Berlin declares a new portable rocket machine, strapped to a one-man and firing effectively over a 400-yard range, was used in the Von Rundstedt offensive.

THE GLORY OF COMMON THINGS

I care not how common any created thing may be considered. To me the commonest of creations is most significant. The tiniest insect is a thing of wonder! And it was created for a purpose. The sincere naturalist sees God's thought in such.

We neglect to see and learn from the multitude of so-called common things in life. "Consider the lilies of the field," exclaimed Jesus, as he talked to the multitudes that gathered about him to listen to his discourse. And he used such illustrations as the mustard seed, and the rugged fisherfolk to bring out truths.

"The water, indeed, reflects heaven because my mind does; such is its serenity, its transparency and stillness," Thoreau said that.

What a thing of wonder and creative thought is the merest snowflake! Why should it have been formed into such exquisite beauty? Certainly some purpose behind each and every design. Perhaps just for us to learn the vastness of God's enterprises, and to teach us never to neglect to note the commonest of things.

It is difficult for us to think of the sun as just another star, and yet that is what it is. And it is this star that gives us all our life upon this earth. Now let us imagine the function of billions of stars, about which we know simply nothing! Any star-lit night is a common thing to look into, and yet its significance is stupendous.

The simple, common, everyday acts of life often hold more significance and more genuine joy within them than many an outstanding act. Why, then, should we neglect to give to each its proper valuation?

I look forward to viewing the earliest buds at Springtime, and to the first flowered visitors from the moist earth, as each pokes its tiny head from between the blades of greening grass. It all gives a thrill to the soul. The commonest stone, picked up anywhere, has significance to the student of geology, because it has a wonderful story hidden within.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Leisure—for Improvement."

Present Shoe Stamp Not To Be Cancelled

Cancellation of outstanding shoe stamps is not being considered, the OPA said today.

Although increased military demands are cutting into civilian supplies the War Production Board Office of Civilian Requirements said that shoe supplies are adequate to honor stamps now outstanding.

While the War Production Board has not yet completed its estimate of 1945 production, OPA said indications are that the next shoe stamps probably will not be validated until some time next summer.

OPA said that no specific date for making the next stamp good can be given now. That decision awaits further information on production for 1945.

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

HOUSE VOTES FOR PERMANENT PROBING GROUP

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Storm signals were hoisted today over the newly-launched 79th Congress.

A huge question mark arose over the ability of the administration to command a constant majority in the House, as a Republican-Democratic coalition overrode Democratic leaders on the opening day of the congress to put the old, so-called Dies committee on a permanent basis.

Democratic leader McCormack, of Massachusetts, arguing against a disregard for precedent, told the House that never before in history "has Congress created a permanent investigatory committee."

The new committee to inquire into un-American activities will be the only permanent body of Congress with continuing power of subpoena.

In a thumping, noisy opening for the new Congress, the House Republican-Democratic combine sailed to a 207 to 186 victory—a surprising development in view of the large Democratic gains of House seats in the November election.

Asks For Harmony

But yesterday's vote was reminiscent of the repeated reversals the administration suffered in the last Congress. It came just after Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) made a harmony appeal to the new Congress.

Commenting on the turn of events, House Republican Leader Martin, of Massachusetts, said: "It didn't look like the new dealers are too strong out there (on the floor)." He added: "There are going to be some good warm battles before we get through this session."

On the other hand, Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the Democratic whip said:

"I don't think this necessarily means anything for the future (of the Democratic unity). The Dies committee has pretty strong support, including the American Legion."

HEAVY BOMBERS HIT NAZI LINES

London, Jan. 4 (AP)—L. Gen. James H. Doolittle's all-weather bombers pinpointed attacks Wednesday on masses of German war material moving to the front. It was the Americans' twelfth daylight raid in as many days.

The Berlin radio said the formations were over western Germany. Hours earlier a great force of heavy bombers and hundreds of fighters were seen over Dover strait on their way to the continent. Nurnberg, Ludwigshafen and Berlin were attacked by RAF squadrons last night.

British and American forces teamed Tuesday in two 1,000 bomber blows—one by day and the other by night. Their targets were railway yards congested with freight, key highway intersections and tank and troop concentrations concealed in woods.

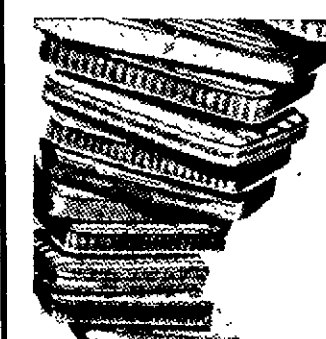

Fighters and bombers operating from France, Belgium and Holland smashed the Nazis hard with day-long attacks in support of ground forces.

U. S. Ninth Air Force divebombers alone got in 750 sorties. Their bag included 62 armored vehicles knocked out and 34 damaged in the Bastogne-St. Vith area, 27 German antiaircraft batteries destroyed, 222 railroad cars wrecked and nine locomotives blasted.

A dozen Mustangs caught five Messerschmitt-109s preparing to land and destroyed every one.

do? If I obtained a position it was but for a short time, as I was not fitted for any work.

I drifted by dint of luck to California, and did any and everything I could find to do, when I engaged to serve as a cowboy; this suited best of all, this went on for two years. I had funds to return, when I thought of the good home and none to share it. As I was the only child, I returned. When I entered the house they could see no return for the care and expenditure on me. After a few days resting my father said, "James, what have you in view?" Nothing, said I. "Well the world is before you," said he. I knew what that meant, and I left the house and took to the road.

Living Death
The last twelve years have been years of a living death. I pity any man that has left his home for the road, and here I can assure you, there are thousands who are tramping that had they, like myself, done the proper thing, would be ornaments to their family instead of disgracing them. They now want me to come home, and I am going. I have tramped from state to state, north and south; I have seen the country. But oh, the remorse that this heart has endured, I cannot tell, I did not wish suicide as many do, nor to be placed on a dissecting table, or buried in a potter's field. Oh no, yet I did not know what was before me; I did know there was a good home I had deserted by not taking a father's good advice. There are many men competent to teach, to transact business of all kinds, on the road. There is a fascination about it, especially to those who are friendless and homeless. The variety, sometimes well clothed and fed, other times hungry and almost naked. In some sections people will feed us.

"Jim," said John Hartel, "you know I was left, plenty, to come and go, engage in any business at my pleasure. Mary and I was children together, and by common consent the parents on both sides were satisfied that we marry. She received a fine education, was a musician of high order. I received, as you know, high honors at Yale. We both traveled a great deal. I knew she was in Europe and corresponded with her. My parents died within six months unexpectedly. I concluded to follow her to Europe; if possible overtake her and return home together. I found her at Venice and gave her every attention, intending to return home on the same boat, and if agreeable marry after we came to New York as I was alone and did not wish to dispose of the home property.

she had cooled somewhat, or perhaps had become interested in another; she was not as genial as heretofore, but somewhat reserved. I engaged a gondola beautifully it carried itself, like a duck on the water; the oarsman could neither speak nor understand English. Scarcely had we started when she spoke of the black-eyed Italian girl; I did not attempt to explain, here was my mistake; that was the end of an anticipated life. I returned home, arranged my affairs to live a life of ease and pleasure, which I did for years; I banished women from my thought, I avoided every opportunity of meeting her or her family.

"A few years ago I was informed by Martha Gardner, a cousin of Mary Whittier, she had purchased a mountain peak at Emmitsburg, Md.; this aroused my sympathies. I concluded as I could not follow her to the different place to which she travelled, but I could erect on this mountain a house, where I could be satisfied to live a recluse, from the observatory of which I could see the house that had within its walls the persons who was all to me, that she was safely housed, and it might be my good luck some day to get a glimpse of her in her snow white garb. I put talent on the road to observe, had ladies to search for her whereabouts to be sure I was right before I took this course. I did hope it was not true and a reconciliation would ensue. At last I ascertained it was true; she was over there, at the Cliff House, for that reason I am here, not that I wish her to know me, far from it. I wish her to live and die keeping her individuality."

Story Of Founding Of Historic Emmitsburg, Maryland

When I returned home I had spent all he gave me and had drawn on him for two thousand more. I gambled and lost, I drank, I carried the sign of it on my face and person. HOUSE VOTES FOR PERMANENT PROBING GROUP

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Storm signals were hoisted today over the newly-launched 79th Congress.

A huge question mark arose over the ability of the administration to command a constant majority in the House, as a Republican-Democratic coalition overrode Democratic leaders on the opening day of the congress to put the old, so-called Dies committee on a permanent basis.

Democratic leader McCormack, of Massachusetts, arguing against a disregard for precedent, told the House that never before in history "has Congress created a permanent investigatory committee."

The new committee to inquire into "American activities will be the only permanent body of congress with continuing power of subpoena."

In a thumping, noisy opening for the new Congress, the House Republican-Democratic combine sailed to a 207 to 186 victory—a surprising development in view of the large Democratic gains of House seats in the November election.

Asks For Harmony

But yesterday's vote was reminiscent of the repeated reversals the administrationists suffered in the last Congress. It came just after Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) made a harmony appeal to the new Congress.

Commenting on the turn of events, House Republican Leader Martin, of Massachusetts, said: "It didn't look like the new dealers are too strong out there (on the floor)." He added: "There are going to be some good warm battles before we get through this session."

On the other hand, Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the Democratic whip said:

"I don't think this necessarily means anything for the future (of the Democratic unity). The Dies committee has pretty strong support, including the American Legion."

HEAVY BOMBERS HIT NAZI LINES

London, Jan. 4 (AP)—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's all-weather bombers pinpointed attacks Wednesday on masses of German war material moving to the front. It was the Americans' twelfth daylight raid in as many days.

The Berlin radio said the formations were over western Germany. Hours earlier a great force of heavy bombers and hundreds of fighters were seen over Dover strait on their way to the continent. Nurnberg, Ludwigshafen and Berlin were attacked by RAF squadrons last night.

British and American forces teamed Tuesday in two 1,000 bomber blows—one by day and the other by night. Their targets were railway yards congested with freight, key highway intersections and tank and troop concentrations concealed in woods.

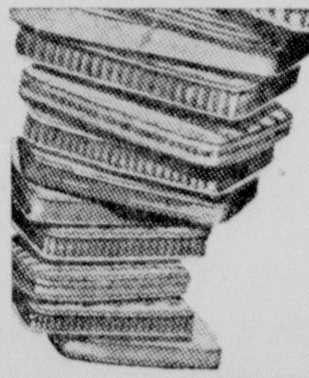

Fighters and bombers operating from France, Belgium and Holland smashed the Nazis hard with day-long attacks in support of ground forces.

U. S. Ninth Air Force divebombers alone got in 750 sorties. Their bag included 62 armored vehicles knocked out and 34 damaged in the Bastogne-St. Vith area, 27 German anti-aircraft batteries destroyed, 22 railroad cars wrecked and nine locomotives blasted.

A dozen Mustangs caught five Messerschmitt-109s preparing to land and destroyed every one.

do? If I obtained a position it was but for a short time, as I was not fitted for any work.

I drifted by dint of luck to California, and did any and everything I could find to do, when I engaged to serve as a cowboy; this suited best of all, this went on for two years. I had funds to return, when I thought of the good home and none to share it. As I was the only child, I returned. When I entered the house they could see no return for the care and expenditure on me. After a few days resting my father said, "James, what have you in view?" Nothing, said I. "Well the world is before you," said he. I knew what that meant, and I left the house and took to the road.

Living Death

The last twelve years have been years of a living death. I pity any man that has left his home for the road, and here I can assure you, there are thousands who are tramping that had they, like myself, done the proper thing, would be ornaments to their family instead of disgracing them. They now want me to come home, and I am going. I have tramped from state to state, north and south; I have seen the country. But oh, the remorse that this heart has endured, I cannot tell, I did not wish suicide as many do, nor to be placed on a dissecting table, or buried in a potter's field. Oh no, yet I did not know what was before me; I did know there was a good home I had deserted by not taking a father's good advice. There are many men competent to teach, to transact business of all kinds, on the road. There is a fascination about it, especially to those who are friendless and homeless. The variety, sometimes well clothed and fed, other times hungry and almost naked. In some sections people will feed us, she had cooled somewhat, or perhaps had become interested in another; she was not as genial as heretofore, but somewhat reserved. I engaged a gondola beautifully it carried itself, like a duck on the water; the oarsman could neither speak nor understand English. Scarcely had we started when she spoke of the black-eyed Italian girl; I did not attempt to explain, here was my mistake; that was the end of an anticipated life. I returned home, arranged my affairs to live a life of ease and pleasure, which I did for years; I banished women from my thought, I avoided every opportunity of meeting her or her family.

"A few years ago I was informed by Martha Gardner, a cousin of Mary Whittier, she had purchased a mountain peak at Emmitsburg, Md.; this aroused my sympathies. I concluded as I could not follow her to the different place to which she travelled, but I could erect on this mountain a house, where I could be satisfied to live a recluse, from the observatory of which I could see the house that had within its walls the persons who was all to me, that she was safely housed, and it might be my good luck some day to get a glimpse of her in her snow white garb. I put talent on the road to observe, had ladies to search for her whereabouts to be sure I was right before I took this course. I did hope it was not true and a reconciliation would ensue. At last I ascertained it was true; she was over there, as he pointed in the direction of the Cliff House, for that reason I am here, not that I wish her to know me, far from it. I wish her to live and die keeping her individuality."

FARM DRAFTING SHOWS CHANGE IN WAR TUNES

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 4 (AP) — The sudden crackdown on draft-deferred farmers is the latest chapter in a story that is grim and shows how top officials have changed their tune.

The number of men squeezed into the army from farms probably will be just a drop in the bucket.

War Mobilizer Byrnes wants draft boards to go over their list of 364,000 men aged 18 through 25—deferred as farm workers—and ferret out the unneeded.

The farm draft boards are supposed to have done this already, repeatedly. It's to be assumed—and that's the opinion of informed people here—that most of the 364,000 will be found still needed on farms. Last April draft calls were about 200,000. As the army and navy got up to peak strength, draft calls started dropping. Only men 18 through 25 were needed.

We invaded Europe, the Germans looked sick, and draft calls dropped. Then the Germans fought back. But the war had been costing us men:

Heavy Casualties

Up to Aug. 29—which was 32 months and 22 days after Pearl Harbor—total army casualties in all theaters were 337,743.

But in the next 3½ months—between Aug. 29 and Dec. 14—the announced army casualties soared by another 210,000.

So in 3½ months we had suffered two-thirds as many casualties as we had suffered in the previous 32 and one-half months.

But since Dec. 14—when the army last released its casualty list—the Germans put on their offensive which cost us heavily.

And now—in January and February—the Army wants its draft calls upped from 60,000 to 80,000 a month. A big share of these draftees will come from the youths reaching 18.

On Monday Byrnes said he wanted 4-Fs between 18 and 38 forced into war jobs or into the army if they're not in essential work. Now he cracks down on the farm workers.

Byrnes' actions this week climax a series—a fairly recent series—of moves by top officials who only a few months ago seemed optimistic but who now call for all out war effort—with no optimism.

XMAS SHOPPING HITS NEW HIGH IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Jan. 4 (AP)—Christmas shoppers swelled department store coffers to an all-time high in 1944, the Federal Reserve bank said today in its monthly business review.

In its report covering the Fourth District — western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky—the review said:

"Fourth district department stores have just experienced the largest dollar volume of Christmas business in their history."

The review attributed this to the "greatly increased wartime incomes" and the higher prices of certain gift merchandise.

Industrial production fell about seven per cent of the 1935-39 average because of contract cancellations, necessary revisions of war production schedules and a drastic manpower shortage, the report stated.

Most war production quotas have been met without serious curtailment of civilian living standards, the report said.

Although steel production totals for the first 11 months of 1944 exceeded output for the same period last year, the industry's percentage has been lower since April. This was caused by manpower shortages and cut-backs in steel orders for special items in military requirements, the report said.

The report predicted the bituminous coal industry would exceed last year's output by over 30,000,000 tons.

It attributed this approximate 6 per cent increase to the absence of "sporadic work stoppages which occurred frequently last year."

Clerks, Typists Are Being Sought

Arthur Warman, secretary of the local board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, post office, Gettysburg, has announced a drive for clerks, stenographers and typists for employment in Washington. "The needs of the federal agencies, particularly of the War Department, Army Service Forces are of the utmost importance to each and every one of us, particularly at this crucial point in the war. Campaigns against Germany were impeded because vital supplies did not arrive on time," Mr. Warman said.

The Navy Department also is urgently in need of personnel, for we must keep vital materials flowing through to our fighting fleet. Numerous other agencies provide a variety of interesting, important jobs where worthwhile experience can be gained. Every effort is made to place applicants in their preferred agencies," he said. Further information may be received at the Gettysburg post office.

FARM DRAFTING SHOWS CHANGE IN WAR TUNES

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP) — The sudden crackdown on draft-deferred farmers is the latest chapter in a story that is grim and shows how top officials have changed their tune.

The number of men squeezed into the army from farms probably will be just a drop in the bucket.

War Mobilizer Byrnes wants draft boards to go over their list of 364,000 men aged 18 through 25—deferred as farm workers—and ferret out the unneeded.

The farm draft boards are supposed to have done this already, repeatedly. It's to be assumed—and that's the opinion of informed people here—that most of the 364,000 will be found still needed on farms.

Last April draft calls were about 200,000. As the army and navy got up to peak strength, draft calls started dropping. Only men 18 through 25 were needed.

We invaded Europe, the Germans looked sick, and draft calls dropped. Then the Germans fought back. But the war had been costing us men!

Heavy Casualties

Up to Aug. 29—which was 32 months and 22 days after Pearl Harbor—total army casualties in all theaters were 337,743.

But in the next 3½ months—between Aug. 29 and Dec. 14—the announced army casualties soared by another 210,000.

So in 3½ months we had suffered two-thirds as many casualties as we had suffered in the previous 32 and one-half months.

But since Dec. 14—when the army last released its casualty list—the Germans put on their offensive which cost us heavily.

And now—in January and February—the Army wants its draft calls upped from 60,000 to 80,000 a month. A big share of these draftings will come from the youths reaching 18.

On Monday Byrnes said he wanted 4-Fs between 18 and 38 forced into war jobs or into the army if they're not in essential work. Now he cracks down on the farm workers.

Byrnes' actions this week climax a series—a fairly recent series—of moves by top officials who only a few months ago seemed optimistic but who now call for all out war effort—with no optimism.

XMAS SHOPPING HITS NEW HIGH IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Jan. 4 (AP)—Christmas shoppers swelled department store offers to an all-time high in 1944, the Federal Reserve bank said today in its monthly business review.

In its report covering the Fourth District — western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky—the review said:

"Fourth district department stores have just experienced the largest dollar volume of Christmas business in their history."

The review attributed this to the "greatly increased wartime incomes" and the higher prices of certain gift merchandise.

Industrial production fell about seven per cent of the 1935-39 average because of contract cancellations, necessary revisions of war production schedules and a drastic manpower shortage, the report stated.

Most war production quotas have been met without serious curtailment of civilian living standards, the report said.

Although steel production totals for the first 11 months of 1944 exceeded output for the same period last year, the industry's percentage has been lower since April. This was caused by manpower shortages and cut-backs in steel orders for special items in military requirements, the report said.

The report predicted the bituminous coal industry would exceed last year's output by over 30,000,000 tons.

It attributed this approximate 6 per cent increase to the absence of "sporadic work stoppages which occurred frequently last year."

NAZIS ATTACK RED FORCE IN BUDAPEST AREA

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Jan. 4 (AP)—The German-Hungarian garrison in Budapest was reported making savage attacks today against Red army units in the northwestern part of the city, seeking to fight toward a large force of Nazi tanks and infantry moving on the capital from the Komarom area, some 31 miles distant.

Dispatches indicated that while the Russians have been forced to give ground southeast of Komarom, a Danubian communications center, they were holding firm against the violent blows of the Budapest garrison.

On the opposite side of the Danube the Soviet troops made further progress in clearing Pest. Nearly a third of that section of the battered and burning Hungarian capital now is in Russian hands, an additional 200 blocks having been captured in the past 24 hours.

Reds Withdraw
The exact time the Germans launched their counterattack in the Komarom area has not been disclosed.

A heavy German thrust was shown at Russian artillery positions. A Red Star dispatch said the artillery line had been forced back by German tanks southeast of the city but it did not state the extent of the withdrawal. The official account said merely that the Russians had given up several populated points along the southern bank of the Danube.

The most recent official accounts of the advance of Komarom had placed Russian elements 10 1/2 miles east of the city.

The German air force has been giving incessant support to the attacking armor and infantry.

The Russian communiqué said at the cost of heavy losses in men and material the enemy was able to capture several populated places on the southern bank of the Danube.

WAR PLANTS IN AREA PRAISED FOR PRODUCTION

Small manufacturers in central Pennsylvania have just completed their greatest year devoted to the manufacture of war materials according to George T. Moran, district manager of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, Harrisburg. He said there are hundreds of plants in this area employing less than 500 people who are partly responsible for the great production records made by the country's large producers. Higgins Douglas Martin etc. are a few of the large producers praising the efforts of the small manufacturer who fed their plants with consistent parts for the mass production of their particular war item.

Mr. Moran revealed today that the Harrisburg district Office of SWPC placed 238 prime contracts and 84 subcontracts for war items in 1944 with small manufacturers in the 14 counties which comprise the Harrisburg district. These contracts amounted to $21,078,639. This figure does not include continuation orders placed as a result of SWPC recommendations, he stated.

Win War First
Many small manufacturers faced possible ruin when this war started due to the fact that priorities had cut off their materials for civilian production and also because they had no experience in manufacturing war items. These manufacturers by their ingenuity, aggressiveness and patriotism converted their plants to the manufacture of items entirely foreign to their regular line.

SWPC helped these plants not only to stay in business but to make a direct contribution to the war effort. According to Mr. Moran SWPC is preparing itself to help these same producers over the hump of reconversion but he also said that the first job to be done is to win the war on the production front.

The new year promises to be one in which still larger production schedules must be met. Mr. Moran suggests that all manufacturers having 500 or less employees register with the Small War Plants Corporation office located in the Yorktown hotel on with the district office located at 713 Blackstone building Harrisburg so that all possible facilities may be used on the great production job ahead.

Name Ships For Historic Places

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Historic place names reminiscent of invention and old lace and powdered wigs, are linked now to the harsh realities of amphibious warfare.

Lifting some of the secrecy which previously had surrounded one of its newest types of craft the LSD (landing ship dock), the Navy disclosed today that these vessels bear instead of the usual number such names as Ashland Epping Forest Gunston Hall and Carter Hall.

Three were named in order, for the Kentucky home of Henry Clay and the Virginia homes of George Washington's mother, of George Mason and Edward Randolph.

GOP May Conduct Publicity Drive

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Republican party is not going to let any grass grow under its feet between elections.

This was the view expressed at National headquarters of the recently defeated GOP today as Chairman Herbert Brownell Jr. came to town to talk future plans and visit with new Republican legislators.

It was said that some party leaders favor spending as much as $1,000,000 in the next two years—$500,000 each year—for publicity and educational campaigns.

The party came through the recent elections with a $350,000 surplus. It was learned today the co-chairman of a meeting of the National committee in Indianapolis, Jan. 22, the party's finance committee headed by James S. Kemper of Chicago also will meet there to survey future money requirements.

Letter To The Editor

Italy Nov 11

Dear Sir
Just a few lines hoping all are well back home as I am well. This good job is finished I have been on as Italian soldiers took it over. Maybe there will be another one similar to it one of these days.

Good living conditions were the best part about it as we had three rooms and a kitchen with sink and running water and a little closet with toilet. We had a stove in one room where we had the radio which an Italian let us use while there. He used to work and live in America and can speak English pretty well. Another family let us use some furniture. We did our own cooking but we had a woman come in a couple of times daily and wash the breakfast and dinner dishes if you want to call them dishes. She also cleaned the rooms and made the beds. Of course we paid her, but a couple of dollars a week is a good mine to them. We got our laundry done by them no matter where we are and they do a good job. But of course all those things cost a little money all along the way although it's better than it was in my other outfit (the Infantry) because then we had to wear one set a month or longer without a change as what one could wear and carry is all you could have of anything.

There were no civilians on Anzio at that time to do any laundry and they would not have been allowed around camp anyway but it's the same around any infantry outfit I was in a pine grove along the beach at Anzio when I wrote all my letters except when I was in the hospital then I went by boat from Anzio to Naples each time also returned same way because the Kraut held a good part of the ground between the two points at that time and beachhead was not big enough to have a station or general hospital on just the evacuation hospital.

When I came out of the hospital the last time I went directly to Roma and was there for about a week at which time I visited Rome which was all I could say then. After that the whole division went back over Naples to train for the landing which was made later on southern France about the first part of August. When the outfit left for France it was the last time I saw Pvt. Ira Shonker and Pvt. Lynville (Bill) Seaborn and I haven't even heard from them since I was reclassified on July 8th after which I stayed with the company until they left and I was commended, to think I would have to go along and believe I may see to see Pvt. Calvin Heintzelman who was already in France. Anyway I stayed back with the supply section and supplies for a week or so and then the supplies moved out for France. They sent me and a thirty-nine-year-old guy to the Replacement depot two days too late to make the last shipment wherein all limited equipment men were ordered to go to the U. S. Since then only part of them have been home.

The other day on one of the pictures I sent home last summer was also in it. I was killed in time to make it home.

Getting back to the beginning of the letter about the good job I had civilian workers with us from GIs and one of so evenings we went to the home of one of them to a supper in which I and the main dish and almost the only thing they roll out the dough and cut it out with anything about the size of a wafel. I and put a little bit of meat on it (provide they can get the meat). I think they mix a few different kind of vegetables in with the dough to make it half circle. They roll them in a pan with very little broth. Well it's fairly good. They eat bread with the dessert and not with the main dish. They always eat fruit bread but it is extra dark now they claim because of the smut in the wheat as they have no good milling facilities for cleaning the wheat now. I received a letter from Sgt. Melvin Singley yesterday who is here in Italy too as well as Cpl. Luther Grimes but have been unable to meet either of them as yet. But

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Historic place names reminiscent of invention and old lace and powdered wigs, are linked now to the harsh realities of amphibious warfare.

Lifting some of the secrecy which previously had surrounded one of its newest types of craft the LSD (landing ship dock), the Navy disclosed today that these vessels bear instead of the usual number such names as Ashland Epping Forest Gunston Hall and Carter Hall.

Three were named in order, for the Kentucky home of Henry Clay and the Virginia homes of George Washington's mother, of George Mason and Edward Randolph.

13TH DAYLIGHT RAID ON REICH

London, Jan. 4 (AP)—German reports of Allied bombers approaching from the south apparently U. S. 15th Air Force Flying Fortresses and Liberators from Italy heralded the 13th straight daylight attack on the Reich today.

Up until noon there was no warning of combat formations invading Germany from the west—a sign that the weather might be halting the record winter string of 12 consecutive days of raids by the U. S. Eighth Air Force from Britain.

Snow, rain and leaden skies prevented operations yesterday by aircraft based in France, Belgium and Holland. Bombers flying from Britain had to drop their explosives through a heavy overcast.

In the past 12 days the Eighth Air Force flew 18,000 sorties and unloaded 26,000 tons of bombs on German objectives principally forward positions near the western front. A U. S. Army announcement said this assault was complemented by the RAF with both day and night attacks.

Late yesterday British four-engine Lancasters and Halifaxes bombed two German fuel plants near Dortmund in the Ruhr and long range Mosquitos carried the attacks through the night with raids on scattered objectives in western Germany.

More than 900 fighter bombers and fighters struck at enemy communications in a wide area in Italy and Yugoslavia yesterday. Twelve locomotives, 61 railroad cars and six railway bridges were destroyed in the Po valley. Brenner Pass and Yugoslavia and rail lines were cut at 67 places.

ACUTE ALCOHOLISM
St. Louis Jan. 4 (AP)—Robert Pankey, 7, died yesterday a victim of acute alcoholism. The boy's parents reported finding him apparently intoxicated in their basement on New Year's night. He told them he had drunk a cup of whiskey.

When I have a chance it a three-day pass I will try to find them providing the snow doesn't get too deep over that way.

The weather has been good so far and the civilians say that snow doesn't amount to much along the coast—the snow is molten on the mountain tops.

In ending I want to thank those who have written and ask them to continue writing. Letter mean a lot to those from home. So long now may God bless you all.

NAZIS ATTACK RED FORCE IN BUDAPEST AREA

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Jan. 4 (AP)—The German-Hungarian garrison in Budapest was reported making savage attacks today against Red army lines in the northwestern part of the city, seeking to fight toward a large force of Nazi tanks and infantry moving on the capital from the Komarom area, some 31 miles distant.

Dispatches indicated that while the Russians have been forced to give ground southeast of Komarom, in Danubian communications center, they were holding firm against the violent blows of the Budapest garrison.

On the opposite side of the Danube the Soviet troops made further progress in clearing Pest. Nearly a third of that section of the battered and burning Hungarian capital now is in Russian hands, an additional 200 blocks having been captured in the past 24 hours.

Reds Withdraw

The exact time the Germans launched their counterattack in the Komarom area has not been disclosed.

A heavy German thrust was thrown at Russian artillery positions. A Red Star dispatch said the artillery line had been forced back by German tanks southeast of the city but it did not state the extent of the withdrawal. The official account said merely that the Russians had given up several populated points along the southern bank of the Danube.

The most recent official accounts of the advance of Komarom had placed Russian elements 10½ miles east of the city.

The German air force has been giving increasing support to the attacking armor and infantry.

The Russian communiqué said: "At the cost of heavy losses in men and material, the enemy was able to capture several populated places on the southern bank of the Danube."

WAR PLANTS IN AREA PRAISED FOR PRODUCTION

Small manufacturers in central Pennsylvania have just completed their greatest year devoted to the manufacture of war materials, according to George T. Moran, district manager of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, Harrisburg. He said there are hundreds of plants in this area employing less than 500 people, who are partly responsible for the great production records made by the country's large producers. Higgins, Douglas, Martin, etc., are a few of the large producers praising the efforts of the small manufacturer who fed their plants with constituent parts for the mass production of their particular war item.

Mr. Moran revealed today that the Harrisburg District Office of SWPC placed 238 prime contracts and 84 subcontracts for war items in 1944 with small manufacturers in the 14 counties which comprise the Harrisburg district. These contracts amounted to $24,078,839. This figure does not include continuation orders placed as a result of SWPC recommendations, he stated.

Win War First

Many small manufacturers faced possible ruin when this war started, due to the fact that priorities had put off their materials for civilian production, and also because they had no experience in manufacturing war items. These manufacturers, by their ingenuity, aggressiveness and patriotism converted their plants to the manufacture of items entirely foreign to their regular line.

SWPC helped these plants not only to stay in business, but to make a direct contribution to the war effort. According to Mr. Moran, SWPC is preparing itself to help these same producers over the hump of reconversion, but he also said that the first job to be done is to win the war on the production front.

The new year promises to be one in which still larger production schedules must be met. Mr. Moran suggests that all manufacturers having 500 or less employees register with the York Smaller War Plants Corporation office located in the Yorktowne hotel or with the district office located at 713 Blackstone building, Harrisburg, so that all possible facilities may be used on the great production job ahead.

GOP May Conduct Publicity Drive

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Republican party is not going to let any grass grow under its feet between elections.

This was the view expressed at National headquarters of the recently defeated GOP today as Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., came to town to talk future plans and visit with new Republican legislators.

It was said that some party leaders favor spending as much as $100,000 in the next two years—$50,000 each year—for publicity and educational campaigns.

The party came through the recent elections with a $350,000 surplus. It was learned today the co-incident with a meeting of the National committee in Indianapolis, Jan. 22 the party's finance committee headed by James S. Kemper of Chicago also will meet there to survey future money requirements.

Letter To The Editor

Italy, Nov. 11

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines hoping all are well back home as I am well. This good job is finished I have been on, as Italian soldiers took it over. Maybe there will be another one similar to it one of these days.

Good living conditions were the best part about it, as we had three rooms and a kitchen with sink and running water, and a little closet with toilet. We had a stove in one room where we had the radio which an Italian let us use while there. He used to work and live in America and can speak English pretty well. Another family let us use some furniture. We did our own cooking but we had a woman come in a couple times daily and wash the breakfast and dinner dishes. If you want to call them dishes. She also cleaned the rooms and made the beds. Of course, we paid her, but a couple of dollars a week is a gold mine to them. We got our laundry done by them no matter where we are and they do a good job. But, of course, all those things cost a little money all along the way, although it's better than it was in my other outfit (the Infantry) because then we had to wear one set a month or longer without a change as what one could wear and carry is all you could have of anything.

There were no civilians on Anzio at that time to do any laundry and they would not have been allowed around camp anyway, but it's the same around any infantry outfit. I was in a pine grove along the beach at Anzio when I wrote all my letters, except when I was in the hospital; then I went by boat from Anzio to Napoli each time, also returned same way because the Kraut held a good part of the ground between the two points at that time and beachhead was not big enough to have a station or general hospital on, just the evacuation hospital.

When I came out of the hospital the last time I went directly to Roma and was there for about a week at which time I visited Rome which was all I could say then. After that the whole division went back near Naples to train for the landing which was made later on southern France about the first part of August. When the outfit left for France it was the last time I saw Pvt. Ira Slonaker and Pvt. Lynville (Bill) Seabrook and I haven't even heard from them since. I was reclassified on July 8th after which I stayed with the company until they left and I was commencing to think I would have to go along and believed I may get to see Pfc. Calvin Heintzelman who was already in France. Anyway, I stayed back with the supply sergeant and supplies for a week or so and then the supplies moved out for France. They sent me and a thirty-nine-year-old guy to the Replacement depot two days too late to make the last shipment wherein, all limited assignment men were ordered to go to the U. S. Since then, only part of them have been going.

The other guy on one of the pictures I sent home last summer was also an L. A., he was called in time to make it home. Getting back to the beginning of the letter about the good job, we had civilians working with us four GI's, and one or so evenings we went to the home of one of them for a supper in which ravioli was the main dish and almost the only.

They roll out the dough and cut it out with anything, about the size of a water glass and put a little pile of meat on it (providing they can get the meat). I think they mix a few different kind of vegetables in with the meat, they fold the dough to look like a half circle. Then they boil them in a pan with very little broth. Well it's fairly good. They eat bread with the desert and not with the main dish. They always eat dark bread but it is extra dark now, they claim, because of the smut in the wheat as they have no good milling facilities for cleaning the wheat now. I received a letter from Sgt. Melvin Singley yesterday who is here in Italy, too, as well as Cpl. Luther Grimes but have been unable to meet either of them as yet. But

YORKER LIVES 33 DAYS ON RAFT

By JAMES HUTCHESON

13th Air Force Headquarters.

Southwest Pacific, Jan. 4 (AP)

After 33 days in a lifeboat drifting over 400 miles in open sea, four laborator crewmen have returned with a story of tortuous survival on a diet of fish and birds they were able to catch with their hands.

The four are:

Second Lieutenant John W. Emig, York, Pa., the pilot; Sgts. John M. Davies, Gannett, Wis.; William A. Gillis, Dearborn, Mich.; and Adolph L. Desmarais, Wickham, Mass.

With six others they bailed out of a flaming Liberator over Philippines' Water No. 1. Enemy strafers killed two. Four reached an island from which two were rescued a few days later.

The quartet named above finally reached a small island 33 days later where natives feasted them 15 days before they were rescued.

During the drifting, the four sighted five Japanese submarines and numerous enemy planes but they never lost confidence. They bobbed on the sea in life preservers during the first day until a Navy bomber dropped a raft and water ration.

EDUCATION FOR

life. English for English teachers, teaching appreciation of literature, directed play and physical education, extra-curricular activities and games, rural sociology, applied psychology, and educational problems.

4. Would you attend a full semester course? Would you attend six or eight meetings? Would you want college credit; would you attend adult discussion forums.

5. What are your suggestions for in-service education through the County Teachers' Institute? Should programs include more demonstrations, discussions of local problems, panel discussions? What is the most advantageous time for the institute meetings—the week before schools open, sometime in November or some other time?

6. How could your interests in professional improvement best be served?

The members of the teachers' association executive committee were asked to consider a number of other questions such as the present opportunities in Adams county for teachers' improvement in service and means of learning to deal successfully with immediate problems.

Other members of the In-Service Teacher Education committee, in addition to Doctor Bream, are Dr. Frank Kramer, head of the Department of Education at Gettysburg college, and Miss Dorothy M. Warner, county supervisor of special education.

NEW OXFORD HI WINS 2 GAMES

The New Oxford high school varsity cagers were too much for the Biglerville high jayvees and copped a double-header in games played Wednesday evening at New Oxford.

Jack Miller's boys hopped off to a 10-3 lead in the first period and maintained a comfortable margin throughout to win, 33-25. J. Haar and Rice paced their respective teams.

In the preliminary game the Biglerville girls fell apart in the third period after leading 12-11 at half time to lose 30-28. The Cannons made a desperate rally in the final period but fell short. Sieg, Rexroth and Nary topped the scorers.

Biglerville's varsity boys and jayvees play at Hallam Friday evening.

YORKER LIVES 33 DAYS ON RAFT

By JAMES HUTCHESON

13th Air Force Headquarters.

Southwest Pacific, Jan. 4 (AP)

After 33 days in a lifeboat drifting over 400 miles in open sea, four laborator crewmen have returned with a story of tortuous survival on a diet of fish and birds they were able to catch with their hands.

The four are:

Second Lieutenant John W. Emig, York, Pa., the pilot; Sgts. John M. Davies, Gannett, Wis.; William A. Gillis, Dearborn, Mich.; and Adolph L. Desmarais, Wickham, Mass.

With six others they bailed out of a flaming Liberator over Philippines' Water No. 1. Enemy strafers killed two. Four reached an island from which two were rescued a few days later.

The quartet named above finally reached a small island 33 days later where natives feasted them 15 days before they were rescued.

During the drifting, the four sighted five Japanese submarines and numerous enemy planes but they never lost confidence. They bobbed on the sea in life preservers during the first day until a Navy bomber dropped a raft and water ration.

Woman Lifer To Be Given Freedom

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Beatrice Snipes, the woman who was saved from the electric chair more than a decade ago because she was going to have a baby, will be free soon.

The late Governor I. C. Blackwood in 1933 commuted the woman's death sentence to life imprisonment after receiving a flood of petitions asking that she be spared the anguish of childbirth while under death sentence.

As one of his last official acts before resigning Tuesday to take office as U. S. Senator, Gov. Olin D. Johnson further cut her sentence to 12 years and three months.

Mrs. Snipes was charged with grabbing a rural policeman's gun and shooting him down after the policeman had stopped the Snipes' car and searched it for liquor.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

Golden, Colo., Jan. 4 (AP)—The fire at a filling station and grocery store finally was put out, by calling on trustees from the city jail.

Fritzie Zivic To Meet Billy Arnold

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Ring wise Fritzie Zivic of Pittsburgh may finally end his 14-year-old ring career tomorrow night when he fights up-and-coming Billy Arnold of Philadelphia in a 10-round at Madison Square Garden.

The 31-year-old campaigner, now a corporal at Normoye Field, Texas, explained Army doctors plan to operate on his nose next month. He is on a 15-day furlough from his Texas base.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Perhaps it was significant that the last race (positively) at Tropical park was won by a nag named "Mug's Game." That's what the horse players have engaged in for a long time.

Yesterday's New York World-Telegram embellished items about the closing races with a black-bordered headline: "The mourning line." . . . Two hundred and fifty sound movies of the Packers' Giants pro football playoff have been dispatched to the fighting fronts. . . . For one of the winter's best laughs of the season get Fritzie Zivic to tell you in a few thousand words—"to make a long story short"—how he took an Army fighter under his management and then knocked him out in a scrap for the middle-weight championship of Texas, thereby proving, Fritzie says, that everything was on the level. . . .

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Al Del Greco, Hackensack, N. J.

Record: "A horse player will never go broke drinking and eating because your reliable HP's have small stomachs. They never found time to eat and drink, what with four or five tracks going."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

When Phil Watson heard that Ott Heller wouldn't be able to play hockey for the Rangers, Phil cracked the cast from his busted hand, announcing: "This is my chance to play defense. If I wait for the doctor to say I can play, I'll miss the 'whole season.' . . . Mill Miller, the soccer publicist, points out that the 'booters' won't be affected by WMC orders because virtually all of them work at war jobs and play only on Sundays and holidays. . . . Syracuse university co-eds have been working as pin boys at the college bowling alleys. But of course, you'd have to call them pin-up girls. . . .

SERVICE DEPT.

Pfc. Michael Homa, a Marine who played for a Navy five, was unanimously selected for the Iceland all-star Army basketball team. . . . Other selections were Jimmy Irick, Tongonoxie, Kans., Sanford Spielner, and Bill Waas, both of Akron, O., and Joe Leyden, Philadelphia. . . . Bunny Austin, former British tennis star, is associate editor of the base newspaper at Biggs Field, El Paso, Tex. . . . Ensign Brick Bradford, former Iowa State Teachers' (Cedar Falls) athlete who was alternate quarterback for the Fort Pierce, Fla., Navy Amphibus last fall, is wondering if he didn't set some sort of record for running back a punt to score against the Jacksonville Navy Air Station. . . . Gus Letchias punted one almost straight up from the Pliers' five yard line and Bradford caught it on the eleven and took it across.

Predict Approval Of FDR Selections

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—A quick Senate okay appeared in prospect today for President Roosevelt's latest nominations to high administration posts.

Both Republicans and Democrats applauded the selection of Guy M. Gillette, their former colleague, for the surplus property board.

Gillette, 55-year-old Iowa Democrat, was defeated for re-election last fall. With Senate confirmation, he will join former governor Robert A. Hurley of Connecticut and Lieut. Col. Edward H. Heller of San Francisco, who were confirmed last session after a sharp Senate debate, on the surplus property board.

The members will supervise disposal of possibly $100,000,000 worth of surplus war plants and property—and draw $12,000 a year salary.

Likewise, no criticism was heard of the nomination of Harry D. White, 52, to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

Some Republicans were critical of the nomination of Paul A. Porter, 40-year-old newspaperman and Democratic publicity chief during last year's campaign, to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

News Lag From Front To Be Cut

Paris, Jan. 4 (AP)—A 36-hour time lag embargo on western front news will be cut to 12 hours beginning today at 5:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m. EWT). It was announced officially last night.

The announcement came in the midst of a new controversy between correspondents and Supreme headquarters censorship over yesterday's delay in releasing news of the U. S. First Army's attack on the northern flank of the Belgium salient.

AAF AND NAVY TEAMS BATTLE FOR GRID TITLE

By LEIF ERICKSON

Honolulu, Jan. 4 (AP)—It will be first come, first served when service men swarm into Pearl Harbor Navy Yard's Furlong Field Sunday to see the Army Air Force and Navy teams battle for the Pacific Ocean Areas Football championship.

Furlong Field has 22,000 seats, all free to men in uniform. No civilians will be admitted to see the clash.

Glenn Dobbs, former Tulsa university all-America, is billed to quarterback the Airmen's starting team. The tentative Army lineup, and the players' former affiliations, is as follows:

Ends, Henry Norberg (Stanford) and Emerson Slasser (Georgia); tackles, Paul Stenn (Villanova) and New York Giants) and Walter Messmer (Nutsy Bears); guards, Jack Freeman (Texas) and Don Marlin (Colorado); center, Ray Whitey Smith (St. Mary's all-Const); backfield, Dobbs; Frank Trigitte (Vermont) and Alfred university), Wayland Hill (Texas) and Ed Dusek (Texas A and M).

The tentative Navy starters:

Exams For Cage Officials Jan. 25

Harrisburg, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association today designated Thursday, January 25, for state-wide examination of all basketball officials who work PIAA-sponsored games.

Edmund Wicht, executive secretary, said football officials who found it impossible to take their examinations last November will be given opportunity to pass their tests with the basketball groups at this time.

Examinations in District 3, which includes Adams county, will be held as follows: McCaskey high school, Lancaster; Mechanicsburg high school; Steelton high school, and William Penn high school, York.

Canadians Seize Village In Italy

Rome, Jan. 4 (AP)—Canadian troops have captured the village of Conventello, two miles east of Alfonsine on the Ravenna-Ferrara highway after inflicting heavy casualties on picked German forces. Allied headquarters announced today.

Approximately 100 prisoners were taken in the advance.

American artillery broke up four sharp raids in the area of San Aniano, just west of highway nine, four miles below Bologna. At the same time the Germans continued their recently adopted tactics of trying to ambush American patrols feeling out enemy positions.

In the right sector of the American Fifth Army front, German artillery laid down a rocket barrage followed by a series of raids in the vicinity of Monte Dell'erro and Silara Ridge, but were repulsed after making contact with our forces.

Chennault Awarded Legion Of Merit

Headquarters, U.S. 14th Air Force, China, Jan. 3 (Delayed) (AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault was awarded the Legion of Merit today for the "phenomenal success" which he achieved as commander of the China Air Task force between July 1, 1942 and March 9, 1943.

The medal was pinned on by Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of U.S. forces in the China theater.

Gallitzin, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP)—A veteran of 35 years' service with the Pennsylvania railroad, Edward H. Lehr, 62, an engineer, died in the cab of his locomotive Tuesday after his freight train had reached the top of Gallitzin mountain.
